

Suggested talking points for Postcard Campaign

- Canada is the only democracy in the world without legislation protecting children in the womb.
- The Supreme Court of Canada in R. v. Morgentaler (1988) clearly understood that Parliament has a legitimate interest in protecting the rights of pre-born children. That Canadian women have a 'right' to abortion is a myth.
- A majority of Canadians want some legal protection for children in the womb and find it morally unacceptable that abortion can be committed in the 3rd trimester, or based on the sex of the pre-born child.
- Abortion is a human rights injustice against the most vulnerable member's of the human family.
- The United Nations Convention on the Rights of a Child states that, "the child, by reason of his physical and mental immaturity, needs special safeguards and care, including appropriate legal protection, before as well as after birth."
